

Paris

HOTELS

Hotel du Petit Moulin.

Situated in the beautiful Marais neighborhood, this is Christian Lacroix's first attempt at hotel designing. The decor differs from room to room, ranging from Baroque to Zen. All crafted with great flair and aptitude, it's a beautiful creation.

31 Rue Du Poitou. +33.1.4274.1010

La Tremoille.

Inside the Haute Couture district is another fashionable creation. This classic Haussmann building houses a quiet and discreet hotel. Choose a suite and soak up the perfect Parisian elegance. No alterations needed to this outfit.

14 rue de la Tremoille. +33.1.5652.1400

Plaza Athenee.

A few steps away from a variety of Paris' most enchanting restaurants and cafes, this hotel places luxury above all else.

25 avenue de Montaigne. +33.1.5367.6665

SPECIAL EVENTS

Centre Georges Pompidou. The epicenter of the contemporary Parisian art scene. Exhibitions, cinemas, live events, it's simply the most vibrant building in town with the most ostentatious architecture in the country. Plateau Beaubourg. +33.1.4478.1233

www.nanotravel.com

October 07

RESTAURANTS

Dominique Bouchet.

Dominique Bouchet, one of the capitals star chefs of the moment, prepares his plates to perfection in this beautiful setting. Get a glimpse of him working his magic at the open kitchen.

11 rue Treilhard +33.1.4561.0946

Le Meurice.

Yannick Alleno, caused a sensation when he received the very generous, and unprecedented, two Michelin stars after having arrived at the stove at Le Meurice only six months prior. We think the 3rd is on it's way

228 rue de Rivoli +33.1.4458.1010

Le Cinq.

Many of Paris' best restaurants have forgotten regional traditions and now concentrate on new-cuisine. But chef Philippe Legendre makes no apologies for finding inspiration in classic ingredients and delicious terroir dishes.

31 avenue George V. +33.1.4952.7154

Paris

BARS

Cambon Bar.

A famous champagne bar, made legendary by many celebrity drinkers in the 40s and 50s. A cosy and intimate place to escape both press and fans.

Rue Cambon 38. +33.1.4316.3030

Pershing Hall Lounge Bar.

Chic, modern decor, the way only the French can do it. If champagne drinking and moody lounging is La Vie Francaise, then long may it last.

49 rue Pierre Charron. +33.1.5836.5800

China Club.

Come find out what Vietnam was like when it was a French colony. Opium-beds and an Oriental theme that is intoxicating, as well as super sexy. Downstairs you can enjoy some live Sino-French Jazz.

50 rue de Charenton. +33.1.4343.8202

SPECIAL EVENTS

La Cinematheque Francaise. Frank Gehry in Paris. The hip architect's striking, curvaceous building has been ingeniously revamped and reopened as the home of the National Film Institute. Catch a classic movie or just admire the designer's genius. 51 Rue de Bercy. +33.1.7119.3333

www.nanotravel.com

October 07

CAFES

Le Grand Colbert.

This is the kind of service you should be receiving the world over. You have only to call 'garcon' and your wish is as good as granted. A cosy venue for an authentic French experience.

2 rue Vivienne. +33.1.4286.8788

Le Cafe Marly.

Paris too offers a stunning view of the pyramids. Many argue that the Louvre's glass replicas are even more impressive than the original. Take in the wonderful architecture and enjoy delectable refreshments.

93 rue de Rivoli. +33.1.4926.0660

Les Daux Magots.

This caf holds some serious history in its walls. Sartre, Hemingway and Picasso used to hangout here regularly. Come in and breathe the creative air that's seized through time. Who knows, maybe you'll get inspired.

170 Boulevard St. Germain. +33.1.4548.5525